Performance in Math and Reading	School Statewide	Grade	School Points	Possible Points
Current Standing How did students perform in the most recent school year? Students are tested on how well they met targets for their grade level (Proficient).		D	10.8	30
Growth of Highest Performing Students How well did the school help individual students improve? The highest performing students are those whose scores place them in the top three quarters of their school. Individual student growth over the past 3 years is compared to average individual growth for the state.		D	6.7	15
Growth of Lowest Performing Students How well did the school help individual students improve? The lowest performing students are those whose scores place them in the bottom quarter of their school. Individual student growth over the past 3 years is compared to average individual growth for the state.		C	6.8	15
Other Academic Indicators Does the school foster an environment that facilitates learning? Attendance is the primary indicator in 2011, but will be joined by a classroom survey (Opportunity to Learn) in 2012.		A	10.0	8
Graduation How does the school contribute to on-time graduation? On-time means within 4 years, and within 5 years to a lesser extent. In 2012, 6-year success rates will also contribute.		B	15.6	17
Career and College Readiness Are students prepared for what lies after high school? Schools receive credit when students participate in college entrance exams, dual credit coursework, and coursework leading to vocational certification. Schools receive additional credit when students meet success goals.		D	8.5	15
Bonus Points Does the school encourage students and parents to be involved? Examples are sports, fine arts, and leadership for students, and mentoring or tutoring for parents.	(Available in 2012)			5

• The state standard goal for attendance (95%) and for graduation (95%) can be surpassed by some schools. This results in schools earning additional points above the maximum possible points.
